Introduction

The Institute of Explosives Engineers (IExpE) is the natural home for anyone working within the explosives industry. IExpE prides itself on promoting best practice and therefore fostering the highest standards across all areas of the explosives industry.

IExpE is the professional body for the explosives industry enabling and promoting consultation between individuals, professional private organisations, government departments and armed forces experts.

By bringing all sectors of the industry together Fulmination 2023 will provide greater networking opportunities to drive the industry together, towards tomorrow.

Fulmination 2023

Fulmination 2023 – The all encompassing event for all sectors of the explosives industry is nearly upon us. With the success of Fulmination 2022 IExpE want to ensure that you join us on this journey as we achieve together, towards, Tomorrow.

Fulmination 2023 will take place at East Midlands Conference Centre & Orchard Hotel. East Midlands Conference Centre offers state-of-the-art meetings and events spaces, banqueting suites and magnificent, contemporary public spaces for networking and pre-drinks.

Your continuous support to the Institute and the Industry has not gone unnoticed, so we have the honour of asking you first to be one of our lead sponsors for THE industry event of 2023.
